

I am writing to request for employment at your esteemed company. The opportunity would allow me to experience the practical application of my studies so far as well as assist the company in serving its clientele through my skills and knowledge acquired over time.

I am a hardworking and driven young man who is eager to learn and focused in all my tasks. I believe I have the thirst to learn and as such acquire valuable skills from you that will help me in my career and in return I will be a valuable asset to your company.

As a Business and IT student, I have become equipped with the necessary knowledge that can be applied in any business and IT related department.

For additional details regarding my qualification and expertise, please review my attached resume.

Thank you for taking the time to consider this application and I look forward to hearing from you.